
ASSISTED LIVING CENTERS

INTRODUCTION

- On December 31, 2004, South Dakota had 157 assisted living centers with 3,356 licensed beds. In 2004, the rate of assisted living beds per 1,000 population aged 65 years or older was 31.04. Beds per 1,000 elderly persons aged 65 years and older can also be broken out by geographic area. Urban geographic areas had a rate of 39.6 beds per 1,000 elderly persons aged 65 years and older. Rural geographic areas had a rate of 31.7 beds per 1,000 elderly persons aged 65 years and older. Frontier geographic areas had a rate of 22.2 beds per 1,000 elderly persons aged 65 years and older.
- The 2004 Assisted Living Center Survey was completed by 144 of South Dakota's 157 assisted living centers. These 144 facilities reported 862,450 resident days during 2004.
- The 2004 average daily census for reporting assisted living centers was 2,361 residents per day and the occupancy rate was 70.4 percent.
- In 2004, reporting assisted living centers had 169,155 Medicaid resident days, which represents 19.6 percent of the total resident days provided by assisted living centers.

NOTE: It is particularly important to be able to compare the data from year to year. Therefore, when an assisted living facility does not submit a completed survey, the facility is still included when the report is talking about the number of beds and facilities. To include them in the report, current licensing numbers are used for extrapolation. When extrapolation occurs, the reader will know because the number is bolded, the area is shaded, and it is noted below the table. In addition, if the number impacts other numbers throughout the report, those numbers are also shaded to show that those numbers are based on extrapolated numbers.*

RESOURCES

Centers and Beds

The 2004 reporting period showed an increase in assisted living centers and beds, as have the past several years. On December 31, 2004, there were 157 assisted living centers with 3,356 beds. The number of centers providing assisted living remained the same from 2003, and increased substantially by 201.9 percent since 1995. Table 32, below, tracks the growth in assisted living centers during the last 10 years.

In 1995, the number of assisted living beds per 1,000 population aged 65 and older was 6.05. Table 32, below, shows that the number of assisted living beds per 1,000 population aged 65 and older increased since 1995 to its 10-year high of 31.04 in 2004.

ASSISTED LIVING CENTERS

UTILIZATION

Table 34, below, shows utilization trends for assisted living centers from 1995-2004. The table details resident days, average daily census, and occupancy.

Resident Days: Resident days in assisted living centers have fluctuated during the past 10 years. Responding centers reported a 10-year high of 862,450 resident days during 2004. Because there were non-reporting facilities, the total resident days and all the other utilization totals were under reported.

Average Daily Census: Responding centers reported that at any given time during 2004 there were about 2,361 people receiving assisted living care. Table 34, below, indicates that this number is up two residents per day or less than one percent from 2003 and 1,952 residents per day or 477.3 percent since 1995.

Percent Occupancy: Responding centers report that the occupancy rate for 2004 was 70.4 percent. The occupancy rate decreased 2.9 percentage points from 2003.
